

Drivers and responses of ACCIONA Energy

We have key competitive advantages to lead the renewables sector...

Our capacity to add value is sustained not only by the integration of the business, but also by distinctive capabilities that differentiate us from other sector companies, enabling us to add more value for our customers and making us more optimistic about the future of our company.

We offer a wide range of services for a wide variety of customers

From project development through EPC to engineering services, logistics, O&M or energy and CO₂ trading, among others, give us a wide range of potential customers: investors, governments and institutions, utilities or not privately owned generators.

We have extensive experience

Our team has the longest experience in renewables that can be found in the world. Twenty years in the sector, with high quality and asset availability.

We are an international company

We are present in key markets and possess installations in the US, Canada, Australia, Germany, Mexico, Poland, Hungary, South Korea and India, and additional projects in Chile and Costa Rica.

We have high social and environmental standards

We work with the concept of sustainability as the vector of our business, with a leading technology in the environmental and social implementation of projects, adding value to the surroundings of the same, with environmental education programs and a high degree of social acceptance of our installations.

The brand is recognized and enjoys a high reputation

We have a unique position in clean energies and sustainability, fields in which we have and continue to be pioneers. The strength of our brand and reputation is supported by the close links between our businesses, our management style, and sustainability. This gives us a competitive advantage difficult to copy.